

Eye Use and Abuse.

Those tired eyes of yours will stand lots of abuse, yet there is a limit to their patience and their power. You may worry along for quite a while, but there will come a time when you will regret your present indifference. Here are a few hints:—Headache, Dizziness—Aversion to Bright Light—Sleepy Feeling while Reading—Blurring of Objects either at close range or at distance—Frowning or Squinting—Smarting or Burning Sensation in or around the eyes—Fatigue or requiring stronger light when reading—Dark Spots floating or Bright Lights flashing before the eyes. These are but a few of the many symptoms.

Just think it over. I fit glasses for defective visions and eye strain—that's all, but a little piece of glass will work wonders.

I charge nothing for consultation. If glasses are not needed, I will tell you; if they are I will furnish them at a reasonable price. A trial is all I ask. Neither can you relieve the strain by "hoping your eyes will become stronger." Weak eyes, when in need of glasses, always go from bad to worse.

D. S. HEARN, Graduate Eye Sight Specialist, with Jno. M. Caldwell.

AUSTIN COLLEGE FOOTBALL TEAM.

The Austin College football team which plays A. and M. this afternoon on Kyle field arrived in Bryan yesterday afternoon on the southbound H. & T. C. The team went out in suits about 5 o'clock to Allen Academy field and went through signal practice. They are a husky looking bunch and expect to give A. and M. a run for their money. Last Monday they opened the season by defeating Southeastern State Normal of Oklahoma by a score of 5 to 0. The Austin College is under the direction of J. Burton Rix, '09 of Dartmouth, who is said to be one of the finest coaches in the South. Mr. Rix was for two years half back on the famous Dartmouth team and was considered one of the strongest men in the back field in Eastern football. The Austin College team has a heavy schedule this year, playing Trinity University on their return next Wednesday at Waxahatchie, Texas Christian University and Southwestern University the latter part of this month, Central State Normal of Oklahoma two games, another game with Southeastern State Normal of Oklahoma, and one with Epworth University of Oklahoma City, and the big Thanksgiving game with Trinity University at Sherman.

Although there are a number of new men on the team, they show up well. They will average about 165 in weight, having a fairly heavy line and light speedy backs. Following is the personnel of the squad: J. B. Rix, coach; W. R. Hall, manager; W. T. Read, secretary Austin College and representative of Sherman papers; Gray and Rigler, center; Doyle, Parker, guards; Mason and Mebane, tackles; Moore and Gillespie, ends; McDaniel and Ramsey, quarter; Corley (capt), full back; Cleveland, Adamson, Slaton and Moreel, half backs. The team remains in Bryan until Tuesday afternoon, and on their way back, stop over at Waxahatchie and play Trinity University.

IN SOCIAL CIRCLES

Announcement Party.

When chains of true friendship bind one heart to another, when from day to day their mutual interests are interwoven; when the summer's sun and the winter's moon, the joyous spring time and the melancholy autumn days sprinkle shadows and sunshine alike over their pathways as they walk hand in hand together time does not wither, nor custom stale the loving companionship of such friends. Mrs. Milton Parker paid tribute to such a beautiful friendship as this when on Tuesday afternoon at four-thirty o'clock, she formally announced the engagement of Miss Marie Adams, (the daughter of her life long friend, Mrs. J. J. Adams, to Judge J. W. Sullivan of Denton, Texas. The guests were received in the hall by Mrs. Milton Parker, Sr. and Mrs. Allen McKenzie. In the parlor were Miss Marie Adams, the guest of honor, Mrs. W. H. Oliver, Mrs. G. S. Parker, Mrs. P. S. Tilson, and Mrs. Milton B. Parker. Miss Marie's arrival on the noon train that day, and the affair having been kept such a secret, the Bachelor Girls and other invited guest were overwhelmed with astonishment to see her, and wholly unprepared for the sweet secret which seemed to permeate the very air with a mysterious interest. After sincere and cordial greetings of welcome had been given, each guest was presented with a dainty card representing a wedding bell and gift letters to spell the names Adams and Sullivan, were to be attached. Mrs. Tilson explained their significance in the following lines:

All these letters that you see
Are quite a mystery to me,
What's in a name, someone has said,
Perhaps you'll find two here instead.
For love, is of all things the best,
Given, and you'll find the rest,
Happiness, peace and strength
That shall be with you through the length
Of your lives it makes us glad
It keeps our hearts' armor clad
It keeps us smiling, keeps us young
It's the best song mortals ever sung.
Why 'tis then this old world grows
Young again, forgets its woes.
And we of the world are glad
And all the earth seems gaily clad.

When the mystery had been solved and the bride elect had been assured of the loving interest with which the secret had been received by her life long friends here in her old home. Miss Dorcas Parker and Miss Willie McDougald passed each guest a cup of punch and Mrs. M. W. Sims, Sr., in her usual clever, happy, and charming style, presided as toastmistress, being as is well known past mistress in this art. Mr. Oliver was called upon for a toast to the bride to be. Miss Adams responded in words of tender and loving appreciation and her very tones rang true with sincerity, and told plainly, that although she has made other friends and acquaintances and the years have brought many changes to her and her friends, yet deep in her heart she loves dear old Bryan and her old friends best of all. A toast to the groom was given by Miss Fannie Fountain, and in response Mrs. Sims read a telegram from the absent one whose name was being introduced into a circle of new, but true friends. Other toasts were given as follows: "Connubial Bliss," Mrs. G. S. Parker; "Marie as a Bachelor Girl," Miss Jessie Garth.

A beautiful wedding book, a gift from the hostess was presented to the honoree by Mrs. Sims. The courtesy was beautifully accepted by Miss Adams in a few well chosen words. The Bachelor girls were then invited into the library, where a beautifully embossed bridal cake, (the work of Mrs. Parker's own hands) reposed on a bed of white roses. To this cake were attached twenty-one white satin ribbons, (one for each Bachelor Girl) and on five of these ribbons, secreted in the cake, was a gold thimble, a ring, a dime, a button, and a darning needle which symbols were to stand for something in the lives of the Bachelor Girls. Luck in the drawing gave the gold thimble to Miss Gussie Buchanan, the button to Miss Fannie Fountain, the dime to Miss Marie Adams, the needle to Miss Jessie Garth, and the ring to Miss Lucy Board. Numerous telegrams from absent friends were read during the afternoon. A stringed orchestra played beautiful selections and was a charm and a delight to the guests. An elaborate two course luncheon was served, the ice being moulded in wedding bell, and the cake in heart shape.

Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Boatwright and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Davis were joint hosts and hostesses a few evenings past of a beautiful six o'clock dinner given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. James Hays Quarles of the A. and M. College. This was quite a pretty courtesy extended to this couple as they were married just a few weeks ago in Houston. Pink, which is always an effective and appropriate color for a dinner, was the color used in the ornate adornment of the table, and a handsome chuncky lace center held a reflector, which was encircled with ferns, and on this rested a cut glass bowl filled with pink blossoms. The mantle and sideboard were banked with these same flowers. Cut glass, silver and hand painted china figured conspicuously in the evenings entertainment and the seven courses were very temptingly and beautifully served. At the conclusion of the dinner all repaired to the library where conversation, music and games entertained the guests until a late hour. This delightful affair was in detail and essembled one of the most perfectly arranged parties ever sponsored by these hosts and hostesses. Besides members of the family and the honor guests those present were: Mr. George K. Sims, music director of the T. W. C. and Miss Maud Howell of Dallas.

As a pretty compliment to Mrs. Mally of Austin, who is the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Geo. R. Tabor, a delightful bridge party was arranged between the hours of ten and twelve on Thursday morning by Mrs. Tabor, who extended her cordial hospitality. Mrs. Mally who was Miss Mattie Tabor before her marriage has many warm friends in Bryan, and this occasion gave opportunity to a few of her friends to be with her once more in the happiest manner. A pleasant air of informality prevailed and the guests had a really social time. The attractive interior of this pleasant home was artistically decorated with golden rod, and made an especially pretty background for the gay participants, who circled the seven tables. The daintiest of hand painted score cards in "pond lily" design were used in keeping score. At the close of the last game Mrs. Moses of College and Mrs. John Astin were declared the prize winners and were given pretty prizes. Mrs. M. W. Sims, Sr., in a witty speech presented the guest of honor with a souvenir of the occasion. A course of refreshments were served consisting of hot chocolate, pine apple cake, and cheese salad on lettuce leaves.

A called session of the Week End club was held on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Boatwright. Each guest was given a friendly welcome into this home, and when the members had all assembled Mrs. Boatwright in the absence of the president, Mrs. Walter Wiprecht, who was detained at home on account of being ill, presided over the meeting. On account of the resignation of Mrs. Wiprecht, which was regretted, by the members, Mrs. George Tabor was unanimously elected to the presidency. The first meeting of the club will be announced later.

The Womans Club will observe President's Day on Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 at the home of the President Mrs. L. L. McInnis, and not at Carnegie library as previously announced.
